Art Unit: 2833

Claims 21, 23 and 30 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on May 24, 2007.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 17-20, 26, 31 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kocher 2004/0151071.

Kocher discloses (Figures 5 and 6) wristband 1, watch 2, clasp 12, 14, and electrical connector 13 of a USB type.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 22, 24, 25, 27, 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kocher.

Kocher substantially discloses the claimed invention except for the specifics of the clasp. It would have been obvious to form the clasp of Kocher as claimed since this type of clasp has been widely used for some time.

The other references cited on Form 892 disclose similar bands with electrical connections/components.
